

We are a resource for prospective, new and current international students. Our office provides assistance with required legal documentation and services for non-immigrant students in F-1 and J-1 status, and serves as a resource center to direct students to support services such as tutoring, advising, housing, wellness and mental health, engagement, and cultural acclimatization.

We provide various opportunities and programs to explore, learn and grow personally and professionally.

To make the most of your Penn State experience, we encourage our international students to fully immerse themselves in the educational, recreational and cultural activities available at Penn State Abington and the Philadelphia area.

Our Unique Campus

We Are the World Weekend highlights international students' cultures and contributions to Penn State. The weekend features performances, food, a formal, and a variety of other student support sessions. We encourage both international and domestic students to participate in the festivities!

The Penn State IFC/Panhellenic Dance Marathon, or THON, is the largest student-run philanthropy in the world. The goal is to raise money for the Four Diamonds Fund at Penn State Hershey Children's Hospital. Penn State Abington THONers organize events and rally support so families can focus on their children's health and never see a bill for treatment.

GELE

The Global Engagement and Leadership Experience (GELE) is a conference that brings together international and U.S. students to discuss and learn about aspects of global leadership.

Student Support

Penn State Abington Health & Wellness Center provides basic health care and wellness programs throughout the year. These free on-campus services are covered by student tuition.

Counseling & Psychological Services at Penn State Abington offers free, confidential counseling and psychological services to students in distress. Services include emotional support, counseling, consultation, academic advocacy, and connections to other services.

Tutoring support is offered to our students to help them achieve academic success. Professional and peer tutors with an extensive background in a variety of subject areas are available daily.

Student Engagement and Leadership

Penn State Abington offers many opportunities for students to get involved, meet other students, develop leadership skills, and gain experiences that will prepare students as professionals and global citizens. We have organizations such as the Abington Anime Association (Anime/Gaming Club), African Students Organization, Asian Student Organization, International Cultural Alliance, Black Student Union, Engineering Club, Hillel, Latino Student Organization, Muslim Student Association, South Asian Student Association, Spectrum, Student Government Association. Information about all our student organizations can be found at <https://getconnected.abington.psu.edu>. Get Involved!

Athletics

At Penn State Abington, we sponsor 13 NCAA Division III sports (baseball, men's and women's basketball, men's and women's cross country, men's golf, women's lacrosse, men's and women's soccer, softball, men's and women's tennis, and women's volleyball). Students can also participate and compete in intramural sports and utilize the cardio room to promote fitness and well-being. Our teams and the Student-Athlete Advisory Committee (SAAC) work in the community with such programs as the Special Olympics.
